Kyle Kales Lomibao-Capsa, 23, Tau Gamma member, killed by gunshot wound in the chest, allegedly by Ritchie John Moreno alias "Moklo," an Akrho member. Capsa's mother is the daughter of the first-degree cousin of PNP Director General Arturo Lomibao. Capsa had a quarrel with his cousin Tyke Philip Lomibao, an Akrho member, which led to a fistfight, then the shooting, after Tyke had run out for help and brought fellow Akrhons Akrho regional chairperson Richard Buscaino says "isolated" incident won't have any bearing on the negotiation between the two frat groups, as a Tau Gamma council officer says they won't retaliate and will leave things to the police, adding "we are on a standdown."

A GRANDSON of the country's top police official was gunned down late Monday night, in what police believe is another consequence of the conflict between Alpha Kappa Rho (Akrho) and Tau Gamma Phi fraternities.

Kyle Kales Lomibao-Capsa, 23, a Tau Gamma member, died of a gunshot wound in the chest.

Capsa was PNP Director General Arturo Lomibao's grandson. Capsa's mother is the daughter of Lomibao's first cousin.

The police official has not yet sent any word to the Cebu City Police Office on how to handle the incident.

The alleged gunman, said to be an

Akrho member, turned himself in yesterday morning.

Capsa was killed the night before Tau Gamma kicked off its 37th anniversary yesterday, with the theme, "Embracing the true Triskelion spirit through individual excellence."

Peace talks
